Found full-time work

John, lost in his addictions lived on the streets for over 10 years. We supported him by obtaining his own apartment and income through AB works.

We helped a mom of 3 through the legal process of obtaining a protective order and child support from the father of one of the girls.

Since then, she has been able to move forward and get back into school to establish a career for herself.

Ann came to Canada in 2016 from Israel and struggled with the language barrier for years- we supported her with the process of getting into English classes at Columbia College.
